

Please don't regulate technology to help content providers (movieindustry) maintain a monopoly. Why should individual consumers be forced (due to regulations) to buy a a technology solutuion to enforce their current method of doing business. Please allow competition to determine who makes movies not regulations.

Thanks,

Jim